The use of Salt Therapy is not intended to substitute medical care or treatment. Do not stop your medication without first consulting with your doctor. Salt Therapy does NOT substitute for any conventional medication. If you have any questions about Salt Therapy check with your doctor before proceeding. The following side effects are possible following treatment: Dry or itchy throat, nasal drip, and increased coughing at the beginning. This is a natural part of the cleaning process of the respiratory system during which the pollution, accumulated through a long time, now loosened up by the salt, are expelled from even the deepest regions of the lungs. Such side effects should cease with the removal of pollution and pathogens. Skin irritation and dermal sensitivity may occur; in such case, decrease the frequency of sessions.

Detoxifying Ionic Foot Bath treatment is not recommended in the following cases: Women who are pregnant or may be pregnant, people with pacemakers or battery operated devices, people with implanted organs, people with epilepsy, or people with open wounds on their feet. Hypoglycemic persons should take food before using. The use of the AMD Ion Cleanse footbath is not intended to treat, cure, prevent, or diagnose any disease or ailment.

Infrared Sauna is not recommended if you are pregnant, have hemophilia, fever, or heat sensitivity. The use of infrared saunas may have many health benefits; however, it is important that you fully understand how to use the sauna and gradually introduce your body to the infrared sauna therapy to produce the best results. In all situations, hydration is a requirement for sauna use. Drinking filtered water or even advanced electrolyte replacement water is recommended before and after sauna use. Self-treatment of any disease with an infrared sauna is not recommended without direct supervision of a certified physician.
